PREFACE

"Not to know what took place before one was born is to remain forever a child", says Cicero.

The family of Davenport is an ancient one. Their Court of Arms goes back several centuries.

ARMS OF DAVENPORT

"Argent, a chevron sable between three cross crosslets fitchee of the second".
Crest: "On a wreath a felon's head, couped at the neck proper, haltered Or".

The above crest denotes the office of Magisterial Sergeancy, and is reckoned among the most ancient in England. The Earl of Chester granted by charter the Grand Sergeancy of the forests of Leeks and Macclesfield to Vivian de Davenport between 1209 and 1226.

The genealogy of the Davenport Family in England begins with Ormus de Dauneport, born in 1086 in the County of Chester. The name was changed to Davenporte in the fourth generation by Thomas de Davenporte. Dr. Amzi Benedict Davenport, in his admirable history of the Davenport Family, published in 1851, and revised in 1877, traces the family from Ormus de Dauneport in a direct line down to Rev. John Davenport, of New Haven, founder of Yale College, who migrated to Connecticut in 1637, and laid there the foundation of an Independent State and Church on the shores of America.

Members of the family have held numerous high positions in England, Mayor and Sheriff of Chester, also of Coventry, Member of Parliament, etc., and have even married into the royal family. Margaret Davenport, daughter of Sir John Davenport, of the Ninth generation from Ormus de Deuneport, married Sir John Hyde, Earl of Norbury, from whom descended Edward Hyde, Earl of Clarenden, whose daughter married James II, and was the mother of Queen Mary (consort of William, Prince of Orange) and Queen Anne.

Christopher Davenport, uncle of the Rev. John Davenport, was Mayor of Coventry at the death of Queen Elizabeth, March 24, 1603, and it was he who proclaimed James I. King of England.

The above notes taken from Dr. A. B. Davenport's history of the Davenport family.

GENEALOGY OF THE DAVENPORT FAMILY

Compiled in the year 1947, by Henry B. Davenport, C.E., L.L.B., Doc. Eng., of Charleston, W. Va.

This genealogy is confined to family of Abraham Davenport, Sr., 1714-1789, and his descendants and their connections.

I have in my possession an old paper chart, 11x14 inches in size, made in the year 1757, which gives the names of Abraham Davenport and his wife, Mary Simms Davenport, and their eleven children, with the dates of their birth. At the top it shows that Abraham Davenport was born May 28, 1714, and Mary, his wife, March 25, 1724. The date of their marriage is obliterated, the chart being partly disintegrated by age. The above names are enclosed in a large heart, on either side of which are the pen and ink drawings of two angels in flight. Below, in the center of the chart, is "The Sum of Religion", by Sir Mathew Hale, Lord Chief Justice of England. Forming a border around the middle section of the chart is a row of small circles, six on each side, and which contain the names and dates of birth of their children. One circle is empty. At the bottom of the chart is the representation, or picture, of the Celestial Mansion, festooned with the oak and ivy, symbols of victory, and immediately at the corners are the figures 1-7-5-7, once repeated at the inner corners, being the date when the chart was made. The entries of names and dates of births of children born before May 19, 1757, are in the same handwriting as the body of the chart. Entries of names and dates of birth of children born after 1757 are in a different handwriting.

The names of the children and dates of birth, as shown on the chart, are stated below. The roman numerals before the names are the order of their birth, the eldest having a I, before her name, and so on. The Arabic numbers are given to identify the person; each person named in the line of descent having a number. Thus Abraham Davenport is Number (1), and Mary Simms Davenport is Number (2). Chidren:

Abraham Davenport (1) 1714-1789.

Was born in England, and migrated to America between 1735 and 1745, and settled in St. Mary's County, Maryland. We do not know in what shire he was born. He married Mary Simms of Prince George County, Maryland, about 1745 or 1746. At the outbreak of the Revolutionary War he was King's Magistrate in St.

Mary's County, and was loyal to his king, until he saw his seven sons march away in a company of patriots, when he called to his wife, saying, "Mary, bring me my rifle, if these d--d sons of ours are going to hell I'm going with them". So he marched away to war at the age of 62 years. Sometime during the Revolution he moved to Berkley County, Virginia, and settled on a farm near Summit Point, now in Jefferson County, West Virginia, where he died in October, 1789, and is buried there by the side of his wife. But the tombstones have been obliterated and the graves can no longer be identified. During his lifetime he accumulated a number of tracts of land. By deed of April 20, 1762, John Higdon and wife deeded to Abraham Davenport, "blacksmith", in consideration of 3,000 pounds of tobacco, a tract of land in Charles County, Md., containing 56 acres, known as Munmoth. Deed recorded there April 20, 1762. He left a will, which was probated October 20, 1789, Will Book 2, page 40, Berkeley County, Virginia, now West Virginia. In this will be disposed of a considerable estate, viz:

To his wife he gave five slaves, and other property;

To his son, Stephen, he gave 200 acres of land, near Warm Springs, being the present Berkeley Springs · he also gave Stephen one slave;

To Abraham, his son, and Elizabeth Conwell, his daughter he gave 400 acres of land on Sleepy Creek; and to Abraham one slave;

To Mary Long, his daughter, one slave and her increase;

To Anthony Simms, one negro girl; to son, John, one negro girl; to his wife, all his household goods, horses, cows, sheep and hogs;

To Adrian one slave, and to Adrian and Samuel, together, 400 acres of land; and to Samuel two slaves; to Catherine Orrick, his daughter, two slaves and their increase; to sons, John and Anthony Simms, 300 acres of land on Back Creek, in Berkeley County. He appointed his wife, Mary and sons Abraham and John, his Executors.

I have in my possession an oil portrait of Abraham Davenport (1), which is an enlargement of a miniature of him made by Charles Wilson Peale, the celebrated artist; the miniature is now in the possession of my cousin, Mrs. Frances Packette Todd, of Washington City and Charles Town, W. Va., who is a lineal descendent of Abraham Davenport. Abraham Davenport was not a blacksmith, as cited in the Higdon deed. At the time he migrated from England none but artisans and mechanics could get passports. The consequence was that many young men, desiring to emigrate, registered as mechanics, carpenters or blacksmiths, in order to be allowed to leave England. At the time of his death he was a large landowner and owned numerous slaves and other property. His portrait shows him to have been a real country gentleman.

Mary Simms Davenport, (2)

She married Abraham Davenport (1) in Maryland about the year 1746. Her emigrant ancestor was Marma-duke Simms (14), who came from England. He was sworn in as Doorkeeper of the Upper House of Maryland in April 1662. He married July __, 1668, Mrs. Fortune Mitford (15), widow of Bulmer Mitford (16), who came from England in 1664. She had two children by her first husband, and four sons by her second husband, Marmaduke Simms (14), who died in 1692. His will was probated Mar. 20, 1692. She died in 1701. Her will was probated Dec. 10, 1701. Note: In the Maryland records the name Simms is variously spelled, as Sims, Semmes, Symes, etc.

Issue of Marmaduke Simms (14) and Fortune Mitford (15), his wife:

I. Anthony (17), b. 1669; d. 1709; m. (1) Bathia (18) and
(2) Dusebella ____ (19)

II. James (20) b. 1670; d. 1727; m. Mary Goodrich Anderson (21), widow.

III. John (22) b. 1673; m. ______, d. 1723.

IV. Marmaduke (23) b. 1675; m. Elizabeth Clarkson (24) He d. July 15, 1717.

Fortune Mitford Simms (15) left a will dated May 1, 1699, which was probated Dec. 10, 1701. She devised 838 acres of land to her children. Anthony (17) got 200 acres, residue of said 838 acres.

Anthony (17) lived in St. Mary's County, Md., but migrated to Charles County, where he died.

Issue of Anthony Simms (17) and Bathia (18), his first wife:

I. Anthony (25) b. 169_, d. 1749; will probated Oct. 14, 1749, Prince George County, Md.

II. Electius (26) b. 169_.

III. Fidelimus (27) b. 169_.

IV. Bathia (28) b. 1700, d. 1737, m. John Higdon (29)

Issue of Anthony Simms (17) and Dusebella (19), his second wife:

V. Marmaduke Simms (30) b. 1694; d. 1738; will probated Jan. 17, 1738; m. Mary Higdon (31). He was born before May 1, 1699, the date of the will of his grandmother, Fortune Mitford Simms (15), as he is mentioned in the will. Also Court order shows he was 16 years old in 1710.

Children mentioned in his will:

(1) Anthony (32)
(2) Marmaduke (33)
(3) James (34)
(4) Jane (35)

Also mentioned in will are "Cousin" Ann Cooksey (36) and Mary Simms (31), his wife, who was made his Admx.

VI. Mary (37) b. 1703; d. 1738; without issue.

VII. Jane (38) b. 1709; ____; m. George Baxter.

In her last will Fortune Mitford Simms (15) gave to Marmaduke Simms (30), son of Anthony Simms (17) a mare colt. Will dated May 1, 1699.

The will of Marmaduke Simms (14) was probated Mar. 20, 1692, in Land Office at Annapolis, Md., Book 6, folio 42. In the will he describes himself as of St. Mary's County, Md. To Anthony (17) he left 200 acres of land in St. Mary's County, and 400 acres in Cecil County, Md. In her will, Fortune Mitford Simms (15) describes herself as of Charles County, Md.

The will of Anthony Simms (17) was probated January 12, 1709. It was dated Aug. 15, 1708.

Issue of Marmaduke Simms (30) and Mary Higdon, (31) his wife:

Anthony Simms (32), b. __, d. 1756. Admr. bond dated Feb. 14, 1756; m. Elizabeth _____ (39). Residence Charles Co., Md. Later removed to Prince George County, Md.

Issue of above marriage:

Mary (2) b. Mar. 25, 1724 (See Davenport chart) d. about 1796. m. Abraham Davenport, Sr. (1) b. May 28, 1714; d. Oct. __, 1789; in Jefferson Co., Va., now W. Va., at Summit Point, and is buried there with his wife, Mary (2).

In her report of the settlement of her Administratrix' account of Anthony Simms (32) Elizabeth (39) his widow, stated that she had paid Abraham Davenport (1) for 9½ barrels of corn due him by her deceased husband. This report further shows, "there are only the widow and one child, named Mary Simms". Report dated Nov. 1, 1756, filed in Prince George County. In the report on the estate of Anthony Simms (32) signed by Ben Musgrave and James Woods, the inventory amounts to L. 222-18-11½; and at the bottom there is stated,

"Nearest kin" "Marmaduke Simms"
"Abraham Davenport"
"Nighest kin".

The report was sworn to by the Administratrix.

The Marmaduke mentioned as nearest of kin was evidently the father of Anthony (32), the decedent. Abraham Davenport was, of course, "nearset of kin" as husband of Mary, the sole heir to the state.

ADMINISTRATOR'S ACCOUNT

Elizabeth Simms, Admrx. of Anthony Simms (32)
Son of Marmaduke Simms (30) and Mary Higdon (31) his wife.

Disbursements allowed ---------- L.137-3-3¼
Bal. to secured creditors ---------- 90-0-0¼
Above balance distributed

"The residue to Mary Simms, "orphan" of the deceased, ---------- 65-7-1½
Land Office, Annapolis, Md. Book 2, p. 94, ---- 1753-59
Mary was the "orphan" of her father, he being deceased.

Raphael T. Semmes, in his notes on the Simms Family, says, "Anthony and Elizabeth Simms left one daughter, Mary, who, I think, married Abraham Davenport". But in another place he said, "No, she was too young". This remark has thrown a cloud on Mary Simms Davenport's genealogy. There are 30 years between the date of birth of Marmaduke Simms (30) and Mary Simms(2), enough for two generations.

The following facts seem to prove that Mary Simms, daughter of Anthony Simms (32) and Elizabeth (39) his wife, was, in fact, the woman who became the wife of Abraham Davenport:

(1) Anthony Simms (32) at his death owed Abraham Davenport (1) for 9½ barrels of corn. This shows a business connection.

(2) Abraham Davenport (1) is described in the Administratrix's Report as the "nighest of kin". This could only mean a family connection, such as son-in-law of the decedent.

(3) Mary Simms Davenport (2) and her husband, Abraham Davenport (1) named several of their children after the close kin of Mary, viz:

a) They named the first child, Elizabeth, after Mary's mother.

(b) They named a son, Anthony Simms, after Mary's father.

(c) They named another son, Marmaduke, after Mary's grandfather, Marmaduke Simms (30).

(d) They named son John after Mary's relative, John Higdon.

(e) They named their daughter Mary, after Mary Higdon Simms, her grandmother.

Thus, we have the genealogy of Mary Simms Davenport (2) viz:

First generation: Marmaduke Simms (14) and Fortune Medford Simms, (15) his wife.

Second generation: Anthony Simms, (17) and Dusebella (19) his second wife.

Third generation: Marmaduke Simms (30) and Mary Higdon Simms (31) his wife.

Fourth generation: Anthony Simms (32) and Elizabeth ------ (39) his wife.

Their daughter, Mary, (2) became the wife of Abraham Davenport (1). She was of the fifth generation.

Note: The Simms were Romanists of deepest dye. Joseph Milburn Simms, son of James (20) above, had one son and eight daughters. The son became a priest, and seven of the daughters became nuns.

On her deathbed, as related by her grand-daughter, Mrs. Amelia Davenport Strother, Mary Simms Davenport (2) called for her rosary and proceeded to consecrate herself according to the rites of the Catholic Church, after having lived with a protestant, Abraham Davenport, for fifty years, and during all that time being a devout member of the Episcopal Church.

I have thus gone into great detail concerning the genealogy of Mary Simms Davenport (2) on account of the cloud thrown on her genealogy by Raphael T. Semmes. The family to which Mary (2) belonged is the family of the celebrated Confederate Admiral Raphael T. Semmes

The two families were close kin, only the spelling of the names were dissimilar.

Issue of Abraham Davenport (1), and his wife, Mary Simms Davenport (2).

I. Elizabeth (3) eldest child, b. Feb. 13, 1747, d. ____ m. Arthur Conwell May 21, 1781 in Berkeley County, Virginia. She had previously married one Walter Boswell. I have no record of her descend ents. If any are discovered they will appear in the appendix.

II. Stephen (4) b. Nov. 24, 1749. m. Ester Violinda. He was a soldier of the Revolution. Removed to Kentucky in 1792, and settled in Clark County, at or near Winchester. Court records at Winchester show the appointment of "Linder" (evidently Violinda) and Abraham Davenport, as Administrators of Stephen Davenport, their father. The date is November, 1802 term of Court. His estate appraised Dec. 22, 1802, totals L. 75-14-10, Crt. Rec ord Bk. 2, p. 31. There is no record of any real estate owned, although his sons, Abraham and Samuel, owned land on "Sulbegrub" Creek in said County.

Issue of Stephen Davenport (4) and Esther Violinda his wife:

(1) Elizabeth b. d. m. Thos. Huls Feb. 7, 1795.
(2) Mary Simms, b m. John Huls Jan. 22, 1800.
(3) Samuel b. m. Sally Spillman July 25, 1800.
(4) Abraham, b. m. Polly March Jan. 19, 1808.

(5) Marmaduke b. m. Betsy D. Staples, July 8, 1800.

(6) Sally b. 1788 m. Nicholas Merrill Nov. 14, 1808.

(7) Nancy b. No record of any marriage.

For settlement of Stephen's estate, see Vol. V., page 753, of my old family letters and documents.

Information concerning Stephen Davenport (4) was secured by Mr. Robert Scott Franklin, genealogist, who went to Kentucky at my insistance to look up the record concerning Stephen (4) and Adrian Davenport (9) about three years ago.

III. Major Abraham Davenport (5), second son of Abraham Davenport (1) and Mary Simms (2), his wife.

Born Feb. 9, 1752; d. at Altona Farm, Jefferson Co., Va., now W. Va., April 17, 1825. He was a soldier of the Revolution, being Lieutenant in Col. Moses Rawling's Regiment of Riflemen, Maryland line; also in Company of Capt. Thomas Beall, with his brother, Adrian Davenport. He was commissioned as Major by Governor Lee of Virginia, May 6, 1793, in the 55th Regiment of Virginia Militia. His will was probated at Charles Town, Va. (now W. Va.) April 25, 1825. He married Frances Williams (40), a near relative of Gen. Otho Williams, at Rockville, Md. in 1788. She was b. d. Sept. 17, 1829. He was captured by the British at the surrender of Fort Washington Nov. 16, 1776, ad remained a prisoner of war until exchanged 4 years later. In 1793 he purchased of Col. Charles Washington the Altona Estate adjacent to the Town of Charles Town, now owned by the writer, and lived there until his death in 1825, when it passed to hi son, Col. Braxton Davenport. He was appointed a Magistrate of Jefferson County in 1801 by Gov. Monroe, of Virginia. Later on he became Sheriff of that County by appointment of Gov. James Barbour. His appointment was dated July 14, 1813. I have this commission. When he died he left a last will, disposing of a large landed estate. Forty-eight slaves are mentioned in this will.

Issue of Major Abraham Davenport (5) and Frances Williams (40), his wife:

Note: (By the writer, Henry B. Davenport)

In 1932 I found among my papers two letters written by Adrian Davenport (9) to my grandfather, Col. Braxton Davenport. They were dated in 1831 and 1832, respectively, and were sent from Union County, Ky. For a hundred years our branch of the Davenport family had entirely lost track of Stephen (4) and Adrian Davenport (9) and their descendents. I gave capies of these letters to Mr. Robert Scott Franklin, a descendant of Major Henry Bedinger, my great-grandfather, and sent him to Kentucky to learn what he could of the said Stephen and Adrian, and their descendents. He was well rewarded, as a perusal of the notes herein on the families of Stephen and Adrian will amply show.

His full report was typewritten and is bound in Volume 5, of Old Family Letters and Documents, in my library, compiled by me in 1932, and 1933.

In one of Adrian's letters above mentioned, in speaking of two of his sons, said, "Dukey" (Marmaduke) "has been appointed Indian Agent at Rock Island", and that Adrian, Jr. (Dukey's brother) had gone there with him.

The above ends my notes on Adrian Davenport (9), and his descendents.

VI. Anthony Simms Davenport (8) fifth son of Abraham Davenport (1) and Mary Simms (2), his wife, b. May 19, 1757; d. June 19, 1835; m. Mary Basil, Mar. 21, 1785, in Berkeley County, Virginia. He was a soldier of the Revolution. Received a pension in Oct. 1832 in Pickaway Co. Ohio. Sold his farm in Berkeley County, Va. in 1793; his wife named "Elizabeth", joined in the deed. Mrs. Flora Alice Davenport Mack, and her daughter, Mrs. R. C. Snyder, entered the Society (D.A.R.) under Anthony Simms Davenport through his son, Basil, who m. Sara Evans; and their son, Anthony Simms Davenport, Jr. married Penelope Ritchart, whose daughter, Flora Alice Davenport, m. John Tallman Mack; and their daughter, Alice Ritchart Mack, m. Reginald C. Snyder, of Norwalk, Ohio. Mr. John T. Mack was a distinguished citizen of Sandusky, Ohio. Anthony Simms Davenport went to Ohio from Berkeley County, Virginia, about 1797, and settled on a 1600 acre tract of land in Pickaway County, received by him for services in the Revolutionary War.

In Vol. 1, p. 208, of the bound volumes of my Letters and Documents is a letter from Col. Benjamin Davenport (52) to his father, John Davenport (6) dated at Baltimore, Md. Sept. 17, 1814. From this letter it appears that Benjamin Davenport (52) was in the Military Service of the U. S. in the War of 1812. He mentions "Margaret" (presumably his wife). He tells about the bombardment of Fort McHenry by the British. He says that Thomas Davenport (44), presumably his cousin, son of Major Abraham Davenport (5) "is very ill, fits and chills and fever". He signs letter, "Your dutiful son, Benjamin Davenport." John Davenport (6) was a land surveyor. In 1811 he surveyed a part of Altona Farm for his brother, Major Abraham Davenport (5) See p. 199, Vol. 1, my Letters and Documents. In Oct. 1795 John Davenport (6) consigned L-30-5-3 of tobacco to Joshua Johnson in London, England. See p. 207, of said Vol. 1.

ter of John Wilson of Henrico Co., Va. He was a soldier in Bacon's rebellion, in 1676. He had a family of 7 children, among others Charles, Jr., who died in 1754, and who was the ancestor of Governor Clement Comer Clay of Alabama, and

(4) Henry Clay, son of Charles and Hannah Wilson Clay, was born 1672 and died 1760. He married Mary Mitchell of Chesterfield County, Va. She was born 1693 and died 1777. Henry Clay and Mary Mitchell Clay lived in Henrico Co., Va. They had issue six children ;among others, John Clay, died in 1761, the ancestor of Henry Clay of Ashland, and

(5) Charles Clay, born Jan. 31, 1716, died Feb. 25, 1789. He married Martha Green Nov. 11, 1741. She was born Nov. 25, 1719, died Sept. 6, 1793. She was a daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Marston) Green. He was born on the high seas, and was ever after called the "Sea Gull". Issue of Charles Clay (5) and Martha Green Clay were, among others, the following:

(6) Green Clay, known as General Green Clay, he having commanded the American Army at the battle of Fort Meigs. He was born Aug. 14, 1757, and died Oct. 21, 1828. Married March 14, 1795, Sally Lewis, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Payne) Lewis. They had issue (among others) General Cassius Marcellus Clay, envoy to Russia, 1861-1869; he was born 1810, died 1905; and

(7) Brutus J. Clay, born July 1, 1808, died Oct. 12, 1878.

Married (1) Amelia Field, and (2) Anne Field. daughters of Col. Ezekiel Henry Field. Issue of Brutus J. Clay and Amelia Field (a) Martha Irvine, born Feb. 1, 1832, died May 28, 1908. Married Henry Bedinger Davenport. They had issue six children, viz, Junius Clay, Ezekiel Clay, Braxton (died an infant), Henry Bedinger, Amelia Field (who married Col. Catesby Woodford), and Braxton, who died unmarried at the age of 27.

(b) Christopher Field, born Nov. 20, 1835, married Mary Brooks, he died about 1899.

(c) Colonel Green Clay, born Feb. 11, 1839, died 1912, married Janie Rhodes.

(d) Ezekiel Field, born Dec. 1, 1840, died 1920 married (1) Mary L. Woodford and (2) Mrs. Florence Lockhart.

Issue of Brutus J. Clay and his second wife, Anne (Field) Clay:

(e) Hon. Cassius Marcellus Clay, born Mar. 26, 1846, died about 1913. He was married three times: (1) Sue Clay, (2) Pattie Lyman and (3) Mary Harris. He was president of the last Constitutional Convention of Kentucky.

Following are the lines of the several branches of the Clay Family:

Brutus J. Clay line	Henry Clay line

(3) Charles Clay
(4) Chas. Clay, Jr.
(5) William Clay
(6) Gov. Clement Comer Clay
(7) Sen. Clement C. Clay
(8) Line ran out, no children

From above chart it is seen that General Green Clay (6) was a grandson of Henry Clay (4) and that Rev. John Clay (6), the father of Henry Clay of Ashland, was also a grandson of Henry Clay (4). Hence General Green Clay (my great grandfather), was a first cousin of Rev. John Clay, the father of the statesman; also that General Green Clay and Governor Clement Clay were both great grandsons of Charles Clay (3). Brutus J. Clay (7) served in the Congress of the U. S., 1861-1865, and was chairman of the committee on agriculture. His son, Colonel Green Clay was secretary of the American Embassy at St. Petersburg, Russia, 1861-1863, and from 1863-1869 was secretary of the American Embassy in Italy. He also served as a legislator in Mississippi and later as a state senator in Missouri.

ALABAMA LINE.
